

Improvised Attacks of Honesty

Patrick Goble

I just can't believe he left me for her
He promised me he'd never cheat on me again, and I know he loves me
But that son of a bitch keeps breaking my heart
I shouldn't take him back. I won't
Unless he's really sorry for what he's put me through
What do you think, honestly?

Honestly?
Okay, here's what I think

You were a lost cause from day one
Do you remember how they made fun?
It was justified! Abandon your pride
Accept the cold hard facts

You're a joke, a failure, a self-righteous fool!
It was pointless to even graduate high school
You've peaked. You've climaxed. You're still a tool
Life will never get better for you

Man, I can't believe they laid me off
I was over-qualified for that fucking job, anyway
I mean, really, a man falls asleep at the drill press once or twice
Or shows up for work after he's had a couple of drinks and you shitcan him?
What do you think?

Honestly?
Okay, here's what I think

You were a lost cause from day one
Do you remember how they made fun?
It was justified! Abandon your pride
Accept the cold hard facts

You're a joke, a failure, a self-righteous fool!
It was pointless to even graduate high school
You've peaked. You've climaxed. You're still a tool
Life will never get better for you

I've tried it all—Prozac, weed, you name it
But I'm still so sad. I live in despair
I just don't want to go on living like this

What do you think?

Honestly?

You were a lost cause from day one
Do you remember how they made fun?
It was justified! Abandon your pride
Accept the cold hard facts

You're a joke, a failure, a self-righteous fool!
